

SARIX is a leading company in the field of micro-machining machines production. We develop and manufacture high-precision machines using EDM, laser and micro-milling technologies.

For the expansion of our Technologies and Applications department we are looking for

EDM Machine Operator/Programmer

Activities

- Realization of machining on EDM machines according drawing
- Programming of the work in ISO language and on CAM
- Execution of parts and dimensional checks with mechanical and optical measuring instruments
- Equipment design and execution
- Preparation of processing protocols

Your Profile

- Training as a polymechnic, automation operator, precision mechanic, or equivalent
- Familiarity with micromechanics
- Knowledge of EDM
- Experience on wire cutting machines, preferably FANUC
- Precision and care in work
- Ability to work in a team
- Knowledge of PC Office programs
- Knowledge of national languages and English can open up prospects for advancement and customer-facing employment

Work location

- 6592 S.Antonino

Hiring priority for Swiss citizens or those with permanent residence in Switzerland (permit B or C)

Send your resume to job@sarix.com with "TAC PROFILE" in the subject line.

Only applicants who meet the requirements will be responded to.